Te Hiringa i te Mahara

PURPOSE

Assessing how Masterton District Council (MDC) can support key aspects of education to develop the community

Lifelong learning is the necessary pre-requisite for sustainable and thriving communities. It is a key driver of personal, social, cultural, economic and environmental advancement.

Our Education Strategy - Te Hiringa i te Mahara, highlights five focus areas for MDC to support.

1

Transitions and pathways

How we can influence or enhance the effectiveness of transitions and pathways from senior secondary school (or foundational education) to further education/training, employment and work

2

Educational equity

How we can influence or enhance educational opportunities and outcomes for all learners (and in particular disadvantaged groups)

3

How we teach and learn now

Looking at ways in which we can promote and support how we teach and learn for success in the 21st Century

4

Lifelong learning opportunities

How we can support or influence enhanced access to, and the availability of, relevant lifelong learning and tertiary education opportunities

5

Communities of Learning

How we can support the development of Communities of Learning (Kāhui Ako)
